Why the Irish people in America, most of them refugees from oppression in their native land, should generally embrace the principles of the Democratic party as they have done in the past, is a mystery that has not yet been solved. It is pleasing to observe that the Irish-American element in the coming campaign will give a fair portion of its voting strength to the Republican party. A. L. Morrison, of Chicago, a very brilliant and talented Irishman, as the leader in a national Irish Republican movement, has issued a call for a convention of Irish-American Republicans at Indianapolis July 15th, which is signed by leading men in twenty-four States. The following paragraphs from the call state the case briefly and pointedly

"The Republican party, in all its great achievements, has never advanced a principle nor enacted a statute in any way at variance with a single doctrine of that patriotic faith which has upheld the people of Ireland during their long and determined struggle for national autonomy It has abolished slavery, amended the constitution so that all men shall stand equal before the law It has advocated and given protection to American industry to the discomfiture of the avarice of the British capitalists, and in defiance of persistent opposition from the English and other European governments, has compelled a recognition of its amendments to the naturalization laws, so that native and foreign born citizens shall enjoy equal protection when beyond the limits of the United States

"The Democratic party, on the contrary, has fostered and protected slavery with all its blighting influences upon Southern society, it has neglected the rights of naturalized citizens, tacitly admitting the claim of European despotism, "once a subject always a subject." It has fostered a slave holding aristocracy in the South, which, inebriated with luxurious and ill-gotten wealth, endeavors, in collusion with the older aristocracies of Europe, to destroy the Union, which it hated with such deadly enmity It has boldly preached the doctrine of free trade, the acceptance of which would bring the workingmen of America into competition with their European brothers at starvation rates, while the philanthropic money kings of Great Britain indulged in eulogistic admiration of Democratic statesmanship"

Col. Plumb, of Streator, who has been a leader in the Greenback party, has come out in favor of the election of Gen. Garfield, and will support the entire Republican ticket this fall Mr Plumb served on Gen Garfield's staff during the war, and knows just what kind of a man he is must be practically demonstrated, and time is the great factor to bring about the required result.

If any of our competitors and would-be manufacturers tell you in flaring advertisements we manufacture our own goods and, therefore, sell cheaper than anybody else, ask them the following questions:

1. WHY IS IT THEY NEVER MAKE A SUCCESS IN ESTABLISHING A PERMANENT TRADE?

2. WHAT ARE THEY MOVING THEIR STORES FOR FROM ONE PLACE TO ANOTHER?

3. WHY DON'T THEY STAY WHERE SUCCESS HAS BEEN ACHIEVED?

Customers don't care whether we manufacture our own Clothing or not, as long as we can furnish them with a line of goods superior in fit and general make up at lower figures than any of our competitors.

"Cheap Charley's" Corner.

JUST THINK OF IT!

Our Factory and Storehouse is in Chicago!

One of the partners resides in Chicago!

All our Clothing is manufactured by us under his personal supervision!

If any bargain is in the market, he is there to secure it!

The ready cash is always at his disposal!

We buy our material direct from the producer!

We do not buy for one, but for many stores in large quantities, and thus are certain of the Lowest Price!

We sell direct to the consumer for Cash, and do not contract bad debts which have to be made up large profits!

We return the money if Goods do not give satisfaction!

WHY, OF COURSE, THESE ARE REASONS ENOUGH WHY IT IS THAT WE SELL LOWER THAN ANY OTHER HOUSE.

1. We have demonstrated the fact of our success by a constant increase of our stock, and by the constant envy of our would-be competitors.

2. We have demonstrated the fact of our permanence by increasing the facilities for selling in proportion as the number of our costumers increased, and that we need now so much room and moved to larger quarters, is as much as a beam in the eye of our competitor.

3. We stay where we have made our success, in the building corner of Water and Main streets, in the block, the name of which has become a by-word in every household in the country—"CHEAP CHARLEY'S CORNER."

4. Although through with No. 1, 2 and 3, we add a 4, and are ready to go on till 13, 14, 15 Now under No. 4 we will explain some of the rules which guide us in business and which added to our success: A—Before all we attend to our own affairs, even so far as to write out our own advertisements—never allow anybody else to do it for us; believing ourselves able to manufacture them, as we manufacture our own clothing. B—We never allow stock to grow old on our hands, and to enable us to keep it fresh assorted at all time, we must do a certain amount of business. Now if we open a new branch in a town which proves not to be able to secure us that much trade, we move our stock to another place where we do find it Sometimes we make a mistake in selecting the right town, but that cannot be helped Among so many good towns in the west must be also some poor ones, like among so many precious good stones, it happens once in the while to find one that is not worth taking notice of.

We defy anybody to falsify the above facts.

Not wealth, nor birth, nor rank nor state,
But GET RIGHT UP AND GIT that makes men great.

HANCOCK has no bar'l, but English is said to possess a good sized one

MORRISON'S boom was soon ground to death. Once in and so quickly out, he was like the traditional short horse—soon curried.

GEN. HANCOCK is the man who hung Mrs. Surratt, and, it is said, refused her the consolation of a priest in her last moments.

"DIXIE" was the tune appropriately played by the band at Cincinnati to-day, to express the delight of the Democrats in getting a candidate. The "Star Spangled Banner" was played afterwards, but "Dixie" very naturally came first.

JOHN KELLY was a terrible fellow before the nomination, but after his opposition to Tilden had resulted in shelving the great cipherer, John quickly leaped into importance, was made a hero of, the band played, Democrats hugged each other, and they had a good religious time of it.

HANCOCK.

The National Democratic convention this forenoon, on the second ballot, nominated General Winfield Scott Hancock as its candidate for president, with a degree of unanimity and amid such wild scenes as indicate that he is generally acceptable to the delegates present.

Gen. Hancock is a native of Pennsylvania, a graduate of West Point, and is now in command of the department of the Pacific, with headquarters at Portland, Oregon. He is over sixty years of age, is a man of fine presence, weighing nearly 300 pounds, and has a good army record. Outside of his military record he is unknown, and nobody knows—so far as we are informed—whether he is a Bourbon or a modern Democrat, whether he is for hard money or soft money, whether he believes in honest elections or in those conducted on the Mississippi plan. In short he has no political record whatever and the country must take him, if at all, on his reputation as a soldier. Why he should be considered a more available candidate than any other Democrat we are at a loss to determine, and why he should be any less objectionable than any other man whom that very objectionable party might set up is impossible to understand. He will probably poll the full Democratic vote, just as any other candidate would have done, and will be defeated in the same way as Tilden, or Bayard or Field would have been.

The success of the Republican ticket is in no wise put in jeopardy by the nomination of Gen. Hancock. Garfield and Arthur are the men whose triumph is certain in November.

The convention afterwards nominated Wm. H. English, of Indianapolis, for vice president, on the first ballot Mr English is a wealthy man who was prominent in politics years ago, but has taken no active part of late years. The ticket has no particular elements of strength in it that we can see.

THE BOURBON GRAVEYARD

Gen. Garfield Takes an Oratorical Walk Through It

Extracts From an Old Speech of the Republican Standard Bearer

The following is an extract from a speech delivered by Gen Garfield, August 4, 1876, in the National House of Representatives:

Mr. Chairman, it is now time to inquire as to the fitness of this Democratic party to take control of our great nation and its vast important interests for the next four years. I put the question to the gentleman from Mississippi, Mr. Lamar, what has the Democratic party done to merit that great trust? He tries to show in what respects it would not be dangerous. I ask him to show in what it would be safe. I affirm, and I believe I do not misrepresent the great Democratic party, that in the last sixteen years they have not advanced one great national idea that is not to day exploded as dead as Julius Cæsar. And if any Democrats here will rise and name a great national doctrine his party has advanced within that time, that is now alive and believed in, I will yield to him. [Applause] In default of an answer I will attempt to prove my negative.

What were the great central doctrines of the Democratic party in the Presidential struggle of 1860? The followers of Breckenridge said slavery had a right to go wherever the constitution goes. Do you believe that to day? And is there a man on this continent that holds that doctrine to day? Not one. That doctrine is dead and buried The other wing of the Democracy held that slavery might be established in the Territories if the people wanted it Does anybody hold that doctrine to day? Dead, absolutely dead!

Come down to 1864. Your party under the lead of Tilden and Vallandigham, declared the experiment of war to save the Union was a failure. Do you believe that doctrine to-day? That doctrine was shot to death by the guns of Farragut at Mobile, and driven in a tempest of fire from the valley of the Shenandoah by Sheridan less than a month after its birth at Chicago

Come down to 1868. You declared the constitutional amendments revolutionary and void Does any man on this floor say so to-day? If so, let him rise and declare it

Do you believe in the doctrine of the Broadhead letter of 1868, that the so-called constitutional amendments should be disregarded? No, the gentleman from Mississippi accepts the results of the war! The Democratic doctrine of 1868 is dead!

I walk across that Democratic campaign ground as in a graveyard. Under my feet resound the hollow echoes of the dead. There lies slavery, a black marble column at the head of its grave, on which I read Died in the flames of the civil war, loved in life, lamented in death, followed to its bier by its only mourner, the Democratic party, but dead! And here is a double grave Sacred to the memory of squatter sovereignty. Died in the campaign of 1860. On the reverse side Sacred to the memory of Dred Scott and the Breckinridge doctrine Both dead at the hands of Abraham Lincoln! And here is a monument of brimstone. Sacred to the memory of the rebellion the War against it is a failure Tilden et Vallandigham fecerunt, A D. 1864. Dead on the field of battle, shot to death by the million guns of the republic The doctrine of secession, of State sovereignty, dead. Expired in the flames of civil war, amid the blazing rafters of the Confederacy, except that the modern Æneas, fleeing out of the flames of that ruin, bears on his back another Anchises of State sovereignty, and brings it here in the person of the honorable gentleman from the Appomattox district of Virginia (Mr Tucker) [Laughter] All else is dead.

Now, gentlemen, are you sad, are you sorry for these deaths? Are you not glad that secession is dead—that slavery is dead—that squatter sovereignty is dead? Then you are glad that you were outvoted in 1860, in in 1864, in 1868, and in 1872. If you have tears to shed over these losses, shed them in the graveyard, but not in this house of living men. I know that many a Southern man rejoices that these issues are dead. The gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. Lamar) has clothed his joy with eloquence.

Now, gentlemen, if you yourselves are glad that you have suffered defeat during the last sixteen years, will you not be equally glad when you suffer defeat next November? [Laughter.] But, pardon that remark, I regret it; I should use no bravado.

Now, gentlemen, come with me for a moment into the camp of the Republican party and review its career Our central doctrine in 1860 was that slavery should never extend itself over another foot of American soil. Is that doctrine dead? It is folded away like a victorious banner, its truth is alive for evermore on this continent. In 1864 we declared that we would put down the rebellion and secession. And that doctrine lives, and will live when the second centennial has arrived. Freedom, national, universal and perpetual—our great constitutional amendments are they alive or dead? Alive, thank the God that shields both liberty and the Union. And our national credit saved from the assaults of those who struck it later, rising higher and higher at home and abroad, and only now in doubt lest its chief, its only enemy, the Democracy, should triumph in November.

Mr. Chairman, ought the Republican party to surrender its truncheon of command to the Democracy? The gentleman from Mississippi says if this were England the ministry would go out in twenty four hours with such a state of things as we have here. Ah, yes! that is an ordinary case of change of administration. But if this were England, what would she have done at the end of the war? England made one such mistake as the gentleman asks this country to make when she threw away the achievements of the grandest man that ever trod her highway of power. Oliver Cromwell had overthrown the throne of despotic power and had lifted his country to a place of masterful greatness among the nations of the earth, and, when, after his death, his great sceptre was transferred to a weak, though not an alien hand, his country, in a moment of reactionary blindness, brought back the Stuarts. England did not recover from this folly until, in 1688, the Prince of Orange drove from her island the last of that weak and wicked line. Did she afterward repeat the blunder?

A Postage Question.

One of those rough clad, big-hearted miners who come into Santa Fe occasionally to lay in a supply of grub, stepped into the post office of that town recently, and, seeing in the window three letters held for postage, picked up one, and, looking at the address, said in a tone of great astonishment, "Why, this letter is for a lady in Denver!" "Yes," said the clerk "And you are holding it here!" in a tone of greater astonishment "Why, of course," answered the clerk, "don't you see it hasn't any postage paid?" In a tone of utter contempt for the man who would not forward a letter to a woman, paid or unpaid, the miner said, "Give me some stamps" It was done, he carefully put stamps on all letters in the window, putting two on that of the feminine gender to make sure that it would go all right, and then stalked out of the office with the concluding remark hurled at the head of the astonished clerk, "Strikes me there's some d—d mean people in this town!"

When Palmer Had the Best of It.

From the Springfield Journal.

During the trial of Maroney, et al, in the United States Court yesterday, noticed in the court record, General Palmer, in his closing address to the jury alluded to the advantages a British subject had over a citizen of the United States, in being permitted to sue in the Federal Courts for a simple assault. Said the General "If I am assaulted I must go before a police court, and submit to the verdict of the jury in the court there. But a British subject demands the privilege of sueing in the highest courts of the nation."

Mr A S. Trude, who was prosecuting, chipped in with "Yes, but Mr. Richards can't be President of the United States" This evoked a smile, but General Palmer with his good-natured laugh and earnest tones, at once turned to Trude and responded, "NEITHER CAN I" The court, spectators and jury saw the point, and the General was unable to resume his argument for a moment or two But when he did resume Mr Trude interrupted him no more

CERTAIN opposition papers are fond of quoting garbled extracts from the report of the Poland committee. But these are some of the sentences they do not quote

The committee do not find that either of the above named gentlemen, in contracting with Mr. Ames, had any corrupt motive or purpose, or was aware that Mr. Ames had any; nor did either of them suppose that he was guilty of any impropriety or even indelicacy in becoming a purchaser of this stock. * * * The committee have not been able to find that any of these members of Congress have been affected in their official action in consequence of their interest in Credit-Mobilier stock. * * * The committee find nothing in the conduct of either of these members in taking this stock that calls for recommendation by the committee.

THE Mexican Government has refused to allow the United States troops to pursue Victoria's band of Apaches across the border of the Mexican Territory. Such a course on the part of the Diaz Government places Mexico in the attitude of an unfriendly neighbor and as a harborer of the enemies of the United States. The refusal was impolitic in every way. It was but comparatively a short time ago that General Ord's order, directing his troops in Texas to pursue raiders into Mexican territory without the formality of asking permission, was rescinded, and it may be that the necessities of the case will cause the issuing of a similar order by General Hatch, who is operating against Victoria and his marauding band of redskins and renegades, in Southern Arizona and New Mexico.

Press Bulletin

CINCINNATI, June 23.—The following is the result of the first ballot for president. Field, 65; Bayard, 163½, Morrison, 62; Hendricks, 49½; Thurman, 68½; Hancock, 171; Randall, 63, Seymour, 8, Loveland, 5, Tilden, 38, Payne, 81, McDonald, 3; Ewing, 10; Jewett, 1; Joel Parker, 1, Lathrop, 1, McClellan, 2, Jeremiah Black, 1; English, 1, total cast, 735½; necessary to a choice, 492.

The mention of Tilden's name, when Kentucky cast five votes for him, was greeted with cheers and a prolonged hiss, which called for a motion from a delegate that the galleries be cleared, but the motion was withdrawn and the roll call proceeded. Seven were absent from the Michigan delegation.

Pending the announcement of the vote the band played "Yankee Doodle" and "Dixie," to the delight of the audience.

After the announcement, the chair announced that no candidate having received a majority of votes, another ballot would be necessary.

A motion was then made to adjourn until ten o'clock Thursday morning, and at six o'clock precisely, after a continuous session of nearly eight hours, the convention adjourned.

CINCINNATI, June 24, 8.50 a. m

The Commercial of this morning says that Ohio and Indiana will go for Hancock to day, and that he will probably be nominated on the first ballot.

The Enquirer says the nomination lies between Hancock and English, with the chances in favor of Hancock, that if Bayard's friends break this morning Hancock is sure of it; that Morrison, of Illinois, will probably be chosen for Vice President; that if New York leaves Payne it will be to go solid for Tilden, and that the Ohio men are contemplating the possibility of throwing that State solid for Tilden.

The convention was called to order at 10 30. The hall is crammed and the weather sultry. Peckham, of Albany, took the platform, and said the New York delegation had received a letter from Tilden (great cheering) renouncing his candidacy for President. He then presented the letter from Tilden, already published, and said New York had agreed on a candidate, and his name is Randall, of Pennsylvania. Great excitement and cheering followed Peckham's announcement

A motion that Tilden's letter be read was lost.

The roll of States was then called on the second ballot, with the following result: Hancock, 311, Randall, 129, Bayard, 123, Field, 65½, Hendricks, 31, Thurman, 50, English, 19, Tilden, 6½, Jewett' 1; Parker, 2 Before the result was announced, States began to change their votes, amid great excitement, until Hancock's vote reached 519. In order to verify the matter the roll of States was called again, the result being Hancock, 705; Hendricks, 30, Bayard, 2; Tilden, 1.

McDonald, of Indiana, moved that the nomination of Hancock be made unanimous, which motion was seconded by Randall, of Pennsylvania.

The nomination was made unanimous, without a dissenting vote.

Gen. Hampton, of S. C., Judge Hoadley, of Ohio, and Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, addressed the convention, seconding the motion of McDonald amid great cheering, the band striking up "Dixie," and ending with the "Star Spangled Banner." in which the great organ joined, producing a telling effect

Augustus Schell and John Kelly have just entered the hall, and were received with loud cheers. There were loud calls for Kelly to take the platform, which he did, amid cheers and an Irish air by the band. He said the nomination of Hancock united the Democracy of New York, and asked that all past differences be forgotten.

Fellows, of New York, took the platform, and after shaking hands with Kelly, he said the action of to day not only unites the Democracy of New York, but of the whole country. At the conclusion of Fellows' speech Kelly shook hands with him again, in full view of the convention, and amid great cheering, the band striking up "Auld Lang Syne," in which the audience joined,

Susan B. Anthony took the platform, and her petition is now being read, asking political rights for women.

The report of the committee on resolutions was made by Watterson, of Kentucky, the chairman, at 1:14 p m.

A motion by a delegate from Massachusetts, that the national committee be instructed to exclude all persons from the next convention, except delegates, alternates, and members of the press, was laid on the table.

On motion, the convention proceeded to the nomination of a candidate for Vice President.

Alabama presented the name of Wm H. English, of Indiana.

Iowa presented the name of R M. Bishop, of Ohio.

English was nominated by acclamation at 2 05.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23—Dr Turner, one of the officials of the National Board of Health, has been indiscreet enough to apparently authorize the publication of a very sensational statement relative to the probability of yellow fever on the Atlantic coast this Summer As to the Mississippi valley, he thinks the yellow fever will be confined to New Orleans, and says that city is in a very filthy condition, and the people seem unable or unwilling to appreciate their danger. In all probability there will be yellow fever in New Orleans, virulent in energy and epidemic in character, before the end of four weeks. Other cities, however, will know it before we do. There is great commercial rivalry between New Orleans and Galveston, for example, and the moment yellow fever breaks out in New Orleans the Galveston people will know it, and will enforce a quarantine against the Crescent City before the click of the telegraph can convey the information to Washington. As to the Atlantic coast, he says. "This year is the cycle in which yellow fever may be expected on the Atlantic coast between Charleston and New York. If they get the fever in Norfolk, which is probable, it is more than probable that it will be carried to Baltimore, and then it will be next to impossible to keep it from being brought here, and Washington, despite all efforts to effect a contrary condition, and in the teeth of any denial thereof, is a fearfully dirty city."

NEW YORK, June 23.—The defeat of Tammany Hall in the Democratic National Convention was received by the people at the bulletin boards with considerable cheering. It seemed as if the whole Tammany strength must be in Cincinnati, so feeble was the expression of dissatisfaction with the result. The names of Cooper, Costegan, Kiernan and other antagonizers of John Kelly received rounds of applause. The issue of the struggle for recognition by rival New York delegations excited an interest not less than there is to know the nominee for President.

AUGUSTA, Me, June 23.—The Republican State Convention renominated Governor Davis, and heartily approved of the nomination of Garfield and Arthur

BURLINGTON, Vt, June 23—The Republican State Convention nominated Colonel Roswell Farnham for Governor, for Lieutenant Governor, General John L Barstow, and for State Treasurer, John A. Page, the present incumbent.

THE construction of the sewer on West Prairie street, from Merchant street alley to the branch near A. B. Bunn's residence, now in progress, has caused a blockade on that street, and for a few days vehicles will be compelled to use other streets for business and pleasure driving. The building of this sewer is one of the most important improvements of the present season,—one in which a large number of business men are personally interested. The public generally will also be largely benefitted, as the sewer will remove accumulated water and slops in Merchant alley that "smell to heaven" in the heat of summer and cause much inconvenience in winter. When the work on the sewer is finished Prairie street will be improved and rounded up in Supervisor Shorb's best style, thus improving the appearance of many residences along that much frequented thoroughfare.

WE acknowledge the receipt of a 16 page pamphlet entitled, "A Brother's Inquest Over a Brother's Grave; or the question, Who Murdered Dr. John R. Goodwin? candidly considered," being a special appeal to the people of Brookville, Ind., as well as other cities where rum runs freely. The author is Rev. T. A. Goodwin, A. M., brother of the pastor of the First M. E. Church, this city. Bob Goodwin shot his brother John on May 3rd, and John died. The pamphlet gives the details of the tragedy in touching language, pays a high tribute to the dead, and is a strong argument in favor of prohibition, asserting in emphatic terms that it was whisky and not Bob, the crazed man, who killed John. The pamphlet is printed for gratuitous circulation.

THE case of Lemuel Logan, charged with robbery and safe blowing in Assumption, Christian county, came up yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, before Judge Zane, at Springfield, on a petition of habeas corpus. THE news of the nomination of Hancock by the Cincinnati democratic convention was received in Decatur soon after 11 o'clock to-day, and inspired no sort of enthusiasm among the mossbacks. A Gold Watch Stolen.

William Pierce, the tall boss of the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific railway gravel train, who resides in a small frame house on the south side of Eldorado-st. east of the Central railroad, was awakened from his quiet slumbers at about two o'clock this morning, and on looking up saw a shining cocked pistol before his eyes in the hand of a ruffian, who told Pierce to be still and his life would be spared. Pierce kept still, and the robber and his pal proceeded to go through the house, but took nothing except a fine gold watch, English lever, Tobias make, plain cases. 4½ in weight, valued at $200. While one of the robbers stood with the revolver in Pierce's face, he asked the prostrate man if he had any money in the house. Pierce said, "No, but if you had waited a couple of days until after pay day, I would have had a pile." Then after the watch had been transferred to the possession of the moving burglar, the robber holding the revolver bade Pierce good morning and told him they would call again after pay day and relieve him of his cash. They then left the house, but as they were going out Pierce hurriedly got out of his bed, procured his revolver, which he found empty, and could do nothing but look out of the door and behold the dark forms as they disappeared over the fence and down the street. Pierce notified the depot police of the occurrence, but too late—the robbers had skipped out, and as Pierce could not recognize his visitors in the gloom of the morning, the officers labor under no little embarrassment in their effort to discover them. However, a description of the watch is at hand, and it may serve as a means of apprehending the robbers.

Open and Ready for Business.

Peter Ullrich's new grocery store, at J. Millikin & Co.'s old stand on the north side of East Main street, was thrown open for business this morning, and the genial proprietor respectfully solicits a share of the public patronage. He carries a fresh and complete stock of goods in his line, and all will admit at a glance that he has one of the finest, most convenient and attractive stores in Decatur. Behind the counter may be found Mr. Jacob I. Bear, one of the old residents of Decatur, lately deputy county clerk and connected with the county treasurer's office, who has a wide and enviable acquaintance in the city and county. The business is a little new to "Jake," but he will soon get the hanging of it. He would be pleased to have all his friends call and see him.—Success to Pete and Jake, and may the new store flourish forevermore.

The Wiley Rape Case.

The case of the People vs. James Wiley, charged with committing rape on the person of Cora Stafford, aged 9 years, in this city, at the home of her step-mother, Mrs. Lou Stafford, on the night of June 14, came up for trial before Justice Peake, this forenoon, E. R. Eldridge, Esq., appearing for the People, and W. C. Johns, Esq., and Lee & Walker for the defendant. The case was taken before Justice Curtis on a change of venue, and from that justice to Justice Palmer's court, where a continuance to Tuesday, June 29th, at 1 p. m., was granted. Justice Palmer fixed Wiley's bail at $800, in default of which the prisoner was re-committed to jail.

A La ——.

Looking out of one of the back windows of our office this afternoon we beheld a well-dressed chap, who had evidently imbibed too freely of benzine, in a drunken sleep, seated in the alley, with his head resting against Leiby Bros.' bake oven. The chap seemed perfectly oblivious to all sublunary things, and as we watched him for over two hours, we can testify that he did not open his eyes once during that time. Not wishing to awaken him, we did not learn his name; but, no doubt, after awhile a bumble bee came along and stung him in the nose, thus bringing him to a realizing sense of his disgraceful position and drunken condition. This chap should be more careful in future and give the saloons the go-by, else he may get into the cooler some day, and that will be very, very sad, indeed.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Isaac Shellabarger and family departed for Minnesota this morning, going by way of St. Louis.

Mrs. B. F. Taylor and daughter, Miss Hattie, left for London, Ohio, this noon, on a visit to Mrs. Judge Lincoln and other relatives.

George Downing started for Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky, this noon, selling Lilly Brackett boots and shoes. He intends making big sales this trip.

Miss Katie Blenz, who resides on South Church street, was the pleased victim of a jolly birthday surprise party on Tuesday evening. There was singing, parlor games and feasting.

Robert Elliott and family arrived in the city last night at 10.30 o'clock from Kansas, having in charge the remains of Edna, the deceased daughter. The funeral will occur this evening, as announced yesterday.

Weldon Coltrin, the chief cook and bottle-washer of Camp DeSoto, came into town last evening to lay in a fresh supply of eatables—enough to keep body and soul together until Saturday night, when the tired lads will return to civilization.

Charles H. Campbell, the superintendent, writes us that one of the principal attractions in central Illinois on the 4th of July, will be the meeting of the Jockey Club at Bloomington, July 2d, 3d and 5th. There will be nine races for premium money aggregating $3,000, closing with athletic exercises and a balloon race on Monday. Doubtless many Decatur sports will be there.

Prof. James H. Brownlee, of the Southern Normal; Prof. Pike, principal of the Jerseyville public schools; W. R. Brink, of Edwardsville; D. McKenzie, of Urbana, Ill., historical writers and compilers for Brink, McDonough & Co.'s forthcoming Illustrated History of Macon Co., are here and will be in and about Decatur for the next two months attending to their special duties. This book will be published late in the fall, and will be delivered to 1,000 subscribers at $10 each.

Extra S. S. Exercises.

The following will be the programme of the exercises to be observed at the First M. E. Sunday school, on Sunday afternoon, June 27th:

1. Opening exercises.
1. Five minutes address on evil associations as leading to intemperance—S. S. Ewing.
3. Singing—"What shall the Harvest be?" By quartette and school.
4. Five minutes address on any phase of the temperance work—Miss Mary Johnson.
5. Singing—"Who is on the Lord's side?" By quartette and school.
6. Ten minutes address on temperance—Rev. George Stevens, of Lincoln, Ill.
7. Singing—"Come closer, soul, to me." By quartette and school.
8. Ten minutes address—Judge Morrow, of Indianapolis.
9. Singing—"Weary not." By quartette and school.
10. Report and conclusion.

Good for the People.

We are assured by the Press Agent of Van Amburgh & Co.'s Great Show, that that pest of all traveling exhibitions given under canvas—the "lemonade peddler"—is not allowed to importune the audience with his presence or drinks on the seats during the performances; and that all games of chance, of whatsoever description, are ignored and utterly repudiated by this institution. The management are solicitous that the authorities in all places in which the show exhibits, will assist them in arresting and bringing to punishment any and all persons so offending.—The Van Amburgh show employs special detectives expressly for the protection of its patrons. Such a show is worthy of all commendation. Such a show will visit Decatur July 3rd, and will certainly attract a big crowd.

A DISMAL LETTER.

No Rain in Kansas for Six Months—A Writer Who says He Can't Live there Indefinitely on Restored Health alone.

[The following doleful remarks from Pawnee county, Kansas, are taken from a private letter addressed to a citizen of Decatur who, feeling it his duty to notify any Macon county farmer what he may expect should he think of leaving this favored country and go to Kansas, has presented the letter to us for publication:

HARMONY, PAWNEE CO., KAN., June 20, 1880.

FRIEND ALBERT:—We had no rain from November 11th to May 19th, and with the three or four showers we had then were not enough. Of the 40 acres of wheat we sowed last fall, we haven't a single head. We planted some corn last spring, but it isn't 8 inches high, and is considerably wilted.

A great many settlers in this part of the country have left and many more will leave I presume. Congress has recently granted settlers in Kansas and Nebraska, (and west of the 6th P. M.) a leave of absence until October, 1881. This gives them a chance to go elsewhere to make a living, and yet hold their claims without liability of contest.

We are in good health and have been nearly ever since we came here. The people generally have good health. I am quite sure that this is a very healthy country, and I would like to remain right on, but a fellow can't live indefinitely on restored health.

S. W. LEFFINGWELL.

From a Distinguished Physician.

Professor Green, a distinguished allopathic physician, wrote to the Medical Record of Atlanta, Ga., to the effect, that after all other means had failed, he sent for the Kidney Cure, (Safe Kidney and Liver Cure) and to his astonishment cured a serious case of Bright's Disease by administering it, and afterwards found it equally beneficial in other cases. He advised his brother physicians to use it in preference to anything else for Kidney Disorders. For sale by W. C. Armstrong, druggist.

BEST IS CHEAPEST!

LEWIS' CONDENSED BAKING POWDER

STRICTLY PURE!

We will give $1000.00 for any Alum or other adulteration found in this POWDER.

Indorsed by the Brooklyn Board of Health, and by the best chemists in the United States.

It is STRONGER than any Yeast Powder in the world.

It NEVER FAILS to make light bread when used as directed.

It is COMMENDED by every housekeeper who has given it a fair trial.

It is an entirely NEW INVENTION, without any of the bad qualities of soda or saleratus, yeast or other baking powders.

It has in itself a tendency to sustain and nourish the system.

Good food makes good health; and health is improved or impaired in proportion as the food we eat is nutritious or otherwise.

LEWIS' BAKING POWDER always makes good food.

One can of this is worth two of any other baking compound.

It makes bread whiter and richer.

More than half the complaints of bad flour arise from the use of common baking powders, which often make the best of flour turn out dark bread.

The most delicate persons can eat food prepared with it without injury.

Nearly every other baking powder is adulterated and is absolutely injurious.

This is made from Refined Grape Cream of Tartar, and is PERFECTLY PURE.

It makes the BEST, lightest, and most nutritious

BREAD, BISCUIT, CAKE, CRULLERS, BUCKWHEAT, INDIAN, AND FLANNEL CAKES.

A single trial will prove the superiority of this Powder.

Gen. Arthur and the Desperado.

When Billy Wilson was raising his notorious regiment of roughs during the war, the members composing it were acting very badly in New York, and Governor Morgan ordered General Arthur, who was quartermaster general, to stop their misconduct. Arthur summoned Billy to his office. The desperado responsively swaggered in wearing his uniform as a colonel, and listened contemptuously to the warning that Arthur gave him. At length he insolently retorted: "Neither you nor the Governor has anything to do with me, for I'm a colonel in the United States service, I am, and you've got no right to order me." Arthur informed him that he was not a colonel yet, because his regiment was not full, and no commission had been issued. "Well, I've got my shoulder straps on," said Billy, "and, so long as I wear them, I don't take no orders from you fellows." Arthur was just as burly then as now, and far more active. "We'll make short work of your shoulder straps," he cried, as he seized the offender, tore off his straps, threw him into a chair and ordered him under arrest.

Republicans Must Look Well to the Next House.

From the Philadelphia Bulletin (Rep.)

We have something more to do in the campaign now begun than to elect a Republican President. We have to elect a Republican House of Representatives, and the latter is not less important than the former. The loss of both the Presidency and the House would be a catastrophe which no Republican who sincerely believes in the righteousness of his political principles can contemplate without dismay.
